

GOLDEN STATE'S END OF THE LINE.

Proposed Extension of the Salt
Lake Road in California--Organization of Development Company.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE (Utah), Nov. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Utah and California and Development Company is the name of the third corporation of the Los Angeles road. This company was fully organized to-day, and its object is to develop the resources along the proposed line. In Southern California, the oil industry will be greatly aided by the extensive work promised for its development. One of the important clauses in the articles of incorporation of the railway covers the transfer of the Terminal Company, and includes this paragraph relative to extensions in California:

"First, An extension thereof from a point on the present existing line and property of the said Los Angeles Terminal Railway Company at the city of Los Angeles, in the said county of Los Angeles, and extending in an approximately northeasterly direction by what shall appear to be the most feasible route via the city of Riverside, and through the said counties of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino, to a point on the boundary line between the States of California and Nevada, and so located and situated as to form and become when so built, a portion of the said main line first hereinbefore described; and

"Second, An extension or branch line thereof, extending from a point on the present line of Los Angeles Terminal Railroad Company, first above described, near Bixby Station, in an approximately southeasterly direction through the said counties of Los Angeles and Orange, to the city of Santa Ana, and such other extensions and branch lines in said State of California as may appear feasible and desirable in carrying on the business of this corporation."

SENATOR CLARK COMING.
TALKS AT SAN FRANCISCO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Former United States Senator Clark of Montana, who is diligently engaged just now in perfecting preliminary arrangements for the building of a new transcontinental line into California, arrived from the East today, and is a guest at the Palace Hotel. A great deal of publicity has been given to Senator Clark's railroad project during the past few months, and the people of Los Angeles, which point is to be the western terminus of the road, as well as the people of Salt Lake City, where the road will connect with the Union Pacific and Rio Grande roads, have been given positive assurance that the enterprise will be carried through successfully and at an early date as economical and substantial construction of the transcontinental railroad can be proved. The multi-millionaire mining man and railroad magnate said as much when seen at the Palace Hotel this evening.

"We have just incorporated the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad in Salt Lake City," he said, "and as soon as we can get to work the construction of the road will be pushed with all reasonable diligence. The company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000,000, and of this amount $10,000,000 has been subscribed. There are no financial obstacles in the way of the enterprise. Work will be begun at first on the construction of sixty miles between Los Angeles and San Bernardino, and while this work is in process, we will push surveys from San Bernardino to Salt Lake City.

"It will take some little time to complete the surveys and locate the route of the road, and the construction, but construction will not be delayed any longer than is absolutely necessary. I can only say in conclusion that we regard the construction of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake road as a good business proposition, and that it will be built."

Senator Clark will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow to look over the southern country and perfect arrangements for the commencement of construction work.

Navy Department Gives the Holland Company a Contract for a New Submarine Boat.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P. M.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Navy Department today entered into a contract with the Holland Submarine Boat Company for the construction of a boat of the type of the six hitherto contracted for, to replace the Plunger, the company agreeing to take the Plunger off the hands of the government, and to build in her place the best type of modern submarine boat, for the sum of $170,000, refunding to the government the sum of $100,000 already paid on the Plunger, and the sum of $100,000, which represents the expenses to which the government has been subjected.

WILL NOT REMOVE MAYOR VAN WYCK.

GOV. ROOSEVELT THINKS SUCH COURSE MUCH TOO DRASTIC.

Says There is Nothing to Show That the Head of Gotham's Government Willfully Violated Law in Holding Ice Trust Stock.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P. M.] ALBANY (N. Y.), Nov. 23.—Gov. Roosevelt tonight gave out his decision on the application for the removal from office of Mayor Van Wyck of New York City. He declines to remove the Mayor on the ground that while he was undoubtedly a stockholder in the American Ice Company, there has been no proof that he willfully violated the law forbidding a public officer to be a stockholder in a corporation having dealings with his municipality. The governor's memorandum says in part:

"I concur in the attorney-general's opinion. My judgment is that the so-called Ice Trust is not a corporation in which the mayor of New York should have stock. But no proof has been offered of any willful violation of law on the part of the Mayor which would justify the drastic measure of removing him from office. The power of removal from office of civil officers should be treated much as we treat the power of impeachment. It is an extraordinary, and not an ordinary remedy.

"The normal remedy for bad government must be an appeal to the people, and not in wholly exceptional cases is it desirable to substitute for this appeal to the people an appeal to the power of removal or the power of impeachment. The case is therefore dismissed."

In giving out his decision, the Governor said:

"Although the matter of trusts is not directly involved in this decision, I wish to point out that the existing law of the State, even provided that under it the Attorney-General's action against the Ice corporation should be successful, is not adequate. In my last annual message to the Legislature, I recommended the adoption of a system which would secure a reasonable publicity of such facts concerning corporations as the public has a right to know, and reasonable restrictions of their powers."

"Events have shown, especially in view of what has occurred in connection with the Ice trust, that stronger action than what I recommended should be taken. Not only should provisions concerning corporations as above mentioned be enacted into law, but there should be lodged somewhere the power to prescribe the conditions which foreign and domestic corporations can do business in this State, and to deprive them of their charters if they, at any time violate these conditions."

Grand Jury to Investigate Alleged Deficiency in the Books of New York's Water Department.

[BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P. M.] NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The grand jury today will begin an investigation of the charges preferred by the Merchants' Association that there is a deficiency of $4,000,000 on the books of the water department representing sums of which the city has been kept out of the last twenty years.

FIRED AT BY MANIAC.

Judge Goodwin of Springfield, O., Has a Very Narrow Escape.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SPRINGFIELD (O.), Nov. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Probate Judge James P. Goodwin, who was once City Solicitor of Los Angeles, had a narrow escape from death here this afternoon. Bridget Sullivan, a maniac, shot at him because he committed her son Frank to the insane asylum. The bullet just missed his head. Had the weapon not "kicked," he would have been killed.

Judge Goodwin and three other men in his office overpowered the woman before she could snap the revolver a second time, which she tried to do. She had planned to kill three people who were concerned in sending her son to the asylum.

WILL GIVE LIFE TO ARID AMERICA.

The Great Task of the Irrigation Congress Finds Hearty Popular Support—The New Officers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today's sessions of the Irrigation Congress were marked with interesting incidents. The Committee on Resolutions reported a strong special resolution in favor of forest preservation and storage reservoirs, to be wired to President McKinley.

The striking feature of the day's proceedings was the unanimous election of Thomas F. Walsh of Colorado, late commissioner to the Paris Exposition, as president of the Irrigation Congress. Walsh's Colorado friends were enthusiastic in urging his election to this honor. The next session of the congress will be held at Colorado Springs in July, and another session at Buffalo during the pan-American Exposition.

Walsh read a strong and interesting paper at the evening session at the Auditorium Theater, in which he showed how the development of irrigation in the Western States would develop mining, create markets for agricultural products, promote railroad building and bring about reduced railroad rates by increasing the traffic of the railroads. His paper was the most interesting of the session, and was a strong presentation of the great benefits to the country from national irrigation.

John W. Els of Chicago, in an eloquent address, portrayed the grand possibilities of the West, and drew a glowing picture of the destiny of the nation when the West should be reclaimed and peopled with happy homes.

James J. Hill, who was unable to be present, wired his regrets and requested that George H. Maxwell should speak for him on the subject of his address, "Our Pacific Commerce, and the Exportation of Farm Products to Asia." Maxwell, in his remarks, said that Hill was laying the tracks and building the steamers which would carry the surplus farm products of the West to Asia, and that no surplus products from the western farm would ever come in competition with the eastern production.

F. H. Newell's address at the Auditorium was replete with facts and stereopticon illustrations explanatory of the great problem of the reclamation of the arid region.

C. B. Boothe read the paper of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, who was unable to be present. Gen. Otis presented the matter in a most striking way by referring to the problem to be solved as the creation of half a continent—a broad presentation of the subject, which must impress its importance upon the eastern mind.

The Committee on Resolutions will report tomorrow. Their resolution will be in the form of a memorial, which points to the indorsement of the movement to reclaim arid America by both the great political parties and demands forest preservation and reforestation, storage of flood waters and development of artesian and subterranean water supplies.

The congress has been a splendid success. California is represented by a strong delegation. It is evident that the commercial interests of the East are with the national irrigation movement.

CHICAGO'S GREAT INTEREST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago business men have taken hold of the work being done by the National Irrigation Congress and associated organizations in a way to make the prospects for the building of the great storage reservoirs and the extension of the irrigation system by government aid brighter than they ever were before. The big Chicago mercantile manufacturing concerns, which have trade extending all over the West, have already given practical evidence of their support by money contributions and by urging their country customers to join it, and during the present congress they have been participating freely in the proceedings.

Today, for instance, John W. Els, Alexander H. Revell and A. C. Bartlett, all men prominent in local commercial circles, spoke at the Auditorium evening meeting. The evening before, James L. Houghteling was the presiding officer, and tomorrow afternoon a special session for business men's talks will be held at

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The withdrawal of "Major" Taylor from the six-day race, which starts in Madison Square Garden, December 10, has resulted in the formation of a team, which to many experts appears invincible. It is composed of Harry Eikes, conceded to be the best pace follower in the world, and Floyd McFarland of California, the long-legged youngster and a short-distance crack for several years.

Taylor was to have been McFarland's mate. Eikes had entered without a partner, but was willing to take the best man who came along. Even at that he saw a chance for victory, and with a man like McFarland as his alternate he does not see how he can lose.

There are now twenty-six teams entered, and it promises to be the keenest contest ever held here.

DEATH OF E. GILMAN.

Well-known Coffee and Spice Merchant Succumbs to Typhoid Fever After a Brief Illness.

Elías Gilman, who had been in the coffee, tea and spice trade in this city for about sixteen years, died at his home on Brent street Thursday morning. He had been ill with typhoid fever for three weeks, and was on a fair way to recovery, when he suddenly suffered a relapse and expired.

Mr. Gilman was 41 years old, and a native of Canada, but spent the greater part of his life in the State of New York prior to come to Los Angeles. He is survived by a widow and two children, a boy aged 12 and a girl aged 2 years. He also has relatives living in New York. A strange coincidence connected with his death was the receipt of a letter by him during his last days, informing him that one of his brothers was dying of typhoid fever in New York.

Mr. Gilman was a man of excellent character, and highly esteemed by his acquaintances. He belonged to Los Angeles Lodge, No. 45, F.A.A.M. The funeral will take place Sunday at 2 o'clock, under Masonic auspices, at the Temple on Hill street. The body will be interred in Rosedale Cemetery.

FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS.

District Convention Holds Two Days' Session at the Central Methodist Episcopal Church in This City.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Los Angeles district closed its twenty-third semi-annual session yesterday afternoon in the Central Methodist Episcopal Church on Fifteenth street between Main and Hill streets.

On account of the absence of many of the delegates it was impossible to carry out the printed programme. A feature of the session yesterday afternoon was an address by Miss Celeste Easton, a returned missionary from Sitapur, India. She told of her work in India, as well as that of other missionaries. This society has sent out 193 missionaries, of which twenty-four are physicians.

Mrs. J. B. Urnsted of University read a report of the branch meeting at Sacramento in October. Mrs. Charlotte O'Neil read a report of the general executive meeting. Memorial services were held for Mrs. Alice K. Stalker and Mrs. H. J. Crist.

The next session will be held in May, at which time officers will be elected.

At the station of the electric power plant, the rain gauge was broken, but the water was as great as at the other places.
